

GEORGE

I don't care how old he is. He's like a little David Caruso. He helped the police find the hit and run driver that killed my Nanna and when I thanked him. He just looked me in the eyes and said, "I like your moustache."

(wells up)

It was something my Nanna would have said. God bless him. I hope he never grows up.

(beat)

But not like a midget. Emotionally.

9           EXT. PLAYGROUND - DAY

9

A girl on the playground.

Chyron: Anne - Classmate

ANNE

Tommy's a policeman and my boyfriend.

She giggles and runs off.

---

10           INT. BROYLES HOME - DAY

10

Tommy's parents, the BROYLES, sit on the couch side by side.

CHYRON: The Broyles, Parents

AMIR LARUSSA (V.O.)

I sat down with Tommy's parents to see what they made of all this.

MRS. BROYLES

Tommy is just a normal kid.

(beat)

And I know I shouldn't be saying this but he's not even the smartest kid in his class.

MR. BROYLES

(laughs)

It's true. Even his sister Brenda, is way smarter.

The parents laugh. So does Amir maybe for a beat too long.

start →

11
END